Caretaker of New York Rooming House Dismembered Body of Woman.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Ludwig H. Lee, 38-year-old carpenter, was convicted yesterday of killing a Brooklyn woman, one of the two he was accused of having slain with an ax, distributing their dis-membered bodies in two boroughs of the city.

A jury which had deliberated

A jury which had deliberated three and one-half hours, in Kings County Court pronounce him guilty of murder in the first degree. He will be sentenced Nov. 14 to die for killing Mrs. Selma Bennett, 48, mother of four children, July 9, in the cellar of the Brooklyn lodging house which she owned.

Lee also was indicted but not tried for the murder of Miss Sarah E. Brownell, 69, keeper of the rooming house, parts of whose dismembered body were found by detectives in the basement of the lice as the motive for the murder of Miss Brownell. Their theory is that he later killed Mrs. Bennett

Lee disclosed that he had re-used Miss Brownell's offer to narry him and had become caretaker of the rooming house after he had lost $600 she gave him with which to start a restaurant busimaking awards from disaster re-Resources of Losers Consideren. "No award is made where the tornado sufferer has adequate resources with which to rehabilitate himself. This eliminates the holder of investment property except where the return from such property is practically the only source "Relief is given as nearly as possible according to the pre-disaster standards of the family, each responsible family being permitted purchase articles of furniture, clothing, etc., from the merchants of their choice in keeping with the family standard. "In vocational rehabilitation the percentage of pre-disaster equipment required to re-establish the individual depends on the type of vocation. It would not be compatible with constructive work, for instance, to refurnish a rooming house on a 50 per cent basis. Such institutions ordinarily must func-tion 100 per cent if they are to bring in sufficient returns to pro-vide an income for the boarding house keeper. However, an award might be made for 50 per cent of the former equipment of a boarding house if it were found that the smaller establishment would re-turn a profitable net income. As a concrete illustration, a former 12-room boarding house might be reduced, when making awards, to a six or eight-room establishment if, in the judgment of the committee, operation on the latter basis would provide a sufficient income for the disaster sufferer. On the other hand, a carpenter having lost an accumulation of tools might be rehabilitated with only a complement of tools sufficient to enable him to continue in his vocation. In a furniture award to a family the amount allowed might not include as many pieces as previously owned, but would be of the same type, provided in the opinion of the committee they are in keeping with the family income. The same would be true of clothing. The Building Awards.

"In building awards the amount allowed should be arrived at first by deducting insurance, if any, from the replacement cost, such through two bids from reputable builders and these checked by the Red Cross building advisor. With this net loss established, the following policy is usually followed: 'If the property is clear and the net loss no greater than can be secured on first mortgage, then no award is to be made. When a previous debt appears, then the award should take into account the ability of the owner to carry an obli-gation in addition to the prevailing one. Exceptions of course, are where the owner might be beyond the age of earning and looking to the income from this property for support. In such event full replace-ment might be made.

"Trust funds may be established at the discretion of the committee for educational purposes for chil-dren or adults vocationally handicapped by physical injuries sus-tained in the tornado and for widows and orphans of the storm."

"It is only in very exceptional ircumstances that a prisoner's s sufficient to convince court or jury of his innocence. Generally speaking, corroboration is reuired. If it were not, any prisoner, accused of any offense whatsover-even murder-might tell any ort of fantastic story on the tand and go free. "However, as is well known, uth often is stranger than ficon, and what appear to be the nost fantastic of tales sometimes rove to be true.

"What could be more fantastic. or instance, than the claim of an tire absence of wrongful intent on the part of a young man in the East who was found in a strange apartment at 1:30 a. m., with ey to the place in his pocket. The entials of the story, which is too omplicated to relate in detail, are hat a hard working and usually pper youth, with no especial bad nabits and no bad companions, became intoxicated one evening, umbled up to the wrong door, and by an amazing coincidence was able to open it with the key to his wn place of residence.

"A case of another sort—one of those in which the defendant is too much disheartened to attempt do anything in his own behalfwas that of a young man who, in desperation, because he was with-out money and unable to find work, ied to enter the screened porch of a home in Los Angeles in the hope of finding food. He pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted burglary, but the Court refused the plea and called in the defender who brought out facts which obtained his release Wanted to Go to Prison. "In San Pedro, Cal., a boy 19 years old was charged with burglary for stealing a ham, and tried to plead guilty under an assumed name. The defender brought out that he belonged to a family in good circumstances in the East, had run away from home and was trying to ship as a sailor but in the meantime, being entirely without money, was living in a cave in the outskirts of the city with the ham he had stolen as his only food. He insisted for a long time that be allowed to go to prison rather than let his family know of his plight, but eventually gave in and was restored to his home. "These were young men who never had been in trouble before and, so far as is known, have not been since, and, as I could show by relating all of the details, they were saved from long prison terms, under burglary and robbery charges, through the assistance given them by defenders. The most important work of the defenders is that of aiding the casual, indigent offender who is not a criminal at heart, and preventing him from being taken out of the ranks of useful citizenship, and turned into a burden on society, and a potential

Program for Year Disclosed at Dinner to High Aviation Official of Britain.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—American mercial aviation already has reached an impressive state of derelopment, Philip A. G. D. Sas-don, British Under-Secretary of State for Air, said last evening at a dinner given him at the Hotel Biltmore by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.

Sir Philip has just completed a brief tour of American airplane plants and flying fields. He re-marked that his decision to visit America was due entirely to his meeting Col. Lindbergh in London shortly after the latter's New York-Paris flight. "What came in Lindbergh's eye when he talked of the pursuit squadron at Selfridge Field," he said, "was more impelling than a thousand pied pipers. And Col. Lindbergh's enthusiasm, I found when I visited Selfridge Field, really underrated the squadron."

Firm to Build 1200 Planes. William P. MacCracken, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aviation, gave encouraging figures on the rapid growth of commer-

"I have learned that one company's program for next year calls for production of 1200 planes," he said. "This is not a paper program, either. On the basis of materials actually ordered, this one company will turn out 15 planes a week for the present and 20 planes weekly after Jan. 1. The total for the year would be more planes than the entire industry in America produced in 1926, even including planes made for the army and

The United States Government tion, as some Europeans do, he added, but is in effect subsidized by it, since the Government is getting more from the public for air mail stamps than it costs the Government to have the mails carried n contracted routes.

Grover Loening, designer and builder of amphibian planes, who presided, revealed that Sir Philip, while visiting Detroit, had been presented several days ago with a new Ford automobile by Henry Ford, a "distinction no American yet enjoys." Loening expressed the opinion that aviation has passed the stage where an occasional disaster will keep a timid public on he ground.

This country has enjoyed a "fairly breathlessly" year in aero-nautics, he said, and it is still too early to sum up the vast changes and progress that have been ac-complished by the long-distance flights which have focused public attention on flying. But the good effects have far outweighed the bad. Loening believes.

Clement M. Keyes, president of the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Co., told what he said was the "true inside story of why America won the Schneider cup from En-gland in 1923 and 1925 and why he trophy now rests in England." Praises Water-Cooled Engines.

English racing prestige began to ecline when the British decided to abandon the development of water-cooled and take up that of air-cooled airplane engines, he said. The Curtiss company saw its opportunity and seized it, according to Keyes, by specializing on water-cooled motors, with the re sult that new speed records were established in the Schneider and Pulitzer trophy races. The present speedy pursuit planes of the United States, he believed to be as fine as any in the world, are another result of this decision, he declared. "Perhaps in return for my 'expose." Keyes added, "Sir Philip will tell us exactly what kind of monkey glands the British used on the Napier Lion—a 450 horsepower motor—to make it suddenly deliver 1000 horsepower through a set of gears." This is the motor with which the British won this year's Schneider rophy race at Venice with the phenomenal seaplane speed of 281

Brent Often In "Hot Water." While no official explanation of the action was forthcoming tolay, it is known that Brent, alhough a "rate man" of recognized bility, has frequently been in "hot water" with his superiors. He has been with the Government barge lines, always in a position of high responsibility, since 1917. He has not been popular with many ship-pers, except where he was co-operating with one section or an other; he has antagonized railroad representatives and two op-erating managers of the line have esigned because of difficulties in heir relations with him.

Brent's position, which carried annual salary of $12,000, entailed direction of negotiations with railroads in the making of joint rates. Notwithstanding the backing of the Government, coof the railroads is esntial to the very existence of the line. A preponderance of its ton-nage is hauled by rail to riverside.

It is known that many railroads were dissatisfied with the barge line's methods in making these di-visions, and that some considered the management partial. One objection was that Brent customarily dealt with the railroads through separate negotiations rather callall the roads concerned into

A difficulty of this sort is be-lieved to have had a part in withdrawal of Upper Mississippi sup-port from Brent, who, although his duties did not call for any activiles in connection with terminals or floating equipment, conferred with Upper River men on the selecon of equipment and escorted tem on several inspections of the

BUFFALO NICKEL INDIAN STOPS AT ST. LOUIS

Chief With 35 Tribesmen Has Been Attending Exposition in Baltimore.

The old warrior whose head appears on the buffalo nickel arrived in St. Louis last night, gazed calmwout at the lights of Eighteenth street from the Union Station train shed, and lighted a cigarette.

Na-Gah-Ko-Tsee-NaMa-Gah, accent on the last syllable, or Chief Two Guns White Calf, as his white friends call him, does not speak English, but he understands it. To all questions he returns a dignified "Um hah," which means everything from "Certainly, I am the Buffalo nickel Indian" to "Yes, we had a pretty good time down in Balti-

With Two Guns White Calf were 35 other Indians, tribesmen of the Piegan and Blood groups of the Blackfeet Nation. They are returning to their Montana reservation from the centennial exposition of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad in Baltimore. They came into the city drawn by a locomotive of the vintage of 1850, a pintsize affair with a 50-gallon funnel for a his legs bowed from riding. Chief smokestack.

A Great Journey, Chief Says. "We have made a very great journey," said Chief Little Dog, a 250-pound Blood Indian standing 6 feet & inches in his moccasins. Chief Little Dog paused after each word.

"I have come all the way from Alberta. I have also visited the Osage Indians in Oklahoma. I will be glad to get home. Do you know when we have dinner?"

Dinner, or more correctly "Tat-cheego," as it is termed by the braves, was served about 7:30. Buffalo meat, venison, antelope steaks, mountain stream bass were stacks, mountain stream bass were not on the menu. The "tatcheego" was just roast beef and potatoes, salad, coffee and pie. DOCTOR IN JAIL AT JOPLIN IN CONNECTION WITH KILLING

Dr. Croxdale Held After Investigation of Murder of South West City Marshal Ang. 10.

JOPLIN, Mo., Nov. 4 .- Dr. Edward Croxdale, 55 years old, of South West City, Mo., was placed in jail here today for safe keeping. T. Pinnell, McDonald County Prosecutor, announced that Croxlale was detained in connection with the murder of Night Marshal

H. Hatfield, a preacher, at South West City, last Aug. 10. Pinnell said his investigation had leveloped that there was enmity between Croxdale and Hatfield aftr the Marshal began a campaign to rid the town of bootleggers, and that Hatfield once had arrested Croxdale on a charge of drunkenness. Hatfield was shot to death on the main street of South West City late at night and his body was found next morning.

the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.-John B. Fergus' fight to bring about equable representation for Cook County in the Illinois General Assembly may prove a boom-

The veteran Chicagoan brought the suit in the Cook County Circuit Court attacking the legislative apportionment acts of 1893 and 1901. The Court Monday found that both acts were now uncon- elsewhere, $3.50 to $5.00. Special stitutional, because population cen- lenses extra. But should the Supreme Court uphold that decision, Chicago may with even less representation than it now has, at least until the Legislature can agree upon a new apportionment act, which it has een unable to do since 1901.

The act of 1901 gave Chicago 19 senatorial districts. The Constitution provides for one Senator and three Representatives from each district. This would give Chicago a total representation of 19 Senators and 57 Representatives.

But, should the Supreme Court hold the act of 1901 unconstitutional, it is believed that the 1882 apportionment act would be in effect, giving Chicago 10 Senators and 30 Representatives

Two Possibilities. Constitutional lawyers agree that there are two possibilities: either the first apportionment act of 1872, or the second of 1882, will become effective until some new act is adopted. In either case, Chicago would have much smaller representation in the General As-

Legislative apportionment was ovided for by the Constitution of 1870, under which the State now operates. It called for 51 senatorial districts, from which one Senator and three Representatives would be elected. Boundaries of districts were to be based upon the population Every 10 years, the Constitution provided, the boundary lines should be changed. To arrive at the basis for new lines, the State's total population should be divided by 51, the number of districts. If the population was 5,100,000, then each district should contain 510.

non people. This system of reapportionment was adhered to by the Legislature for three decades, resulting in the reapportionment act of 1872, 1882. 1893 and 1901. But at the time for the next reapportionment, none was made. A Long. Bitter Fight. Chicago had by this time become to large that its population was virtually equal to all the rest of the State. To give Chicago. or Cook County, the apportionment provided for in the constitution would be to repose the balance of legislative power in a small area n-Lake Michigan. This the legislature refused to do.

The apportionment act of 1901 welcome relief by giving already has been held constitutional by the Supreme Court, TONSILINE Sore Throat Reme shortly after it was passed. The basis for the suit against it at that time was that no apportionment could be - do until 1903, 10 years after the last division. But the Court interpreted the constitution to mean reapportionment "after each Federal census."

This ruling, bowever, would not be a bar to another ruling, since conditions have changed since the Court handed down that decision.

Court handed down that decision.

1882 Boundary Lines.

St. Louis Uses 600,000 Gallons a Day More Than It Did a Year Ago.

The average daily consumption of water in St. Louis increased to 119,500,000 gallons for the year ended last July 1 from 118,900,000 gallons for the previous year, according to the annual report of Leonard A. Day, Water Commis sioner, published today.

The maximum daily consumption occurred Aug. 11 when more than 159,000,000 gallons were pumped. The Water Commissioner remarks that inasmuch as the rated capacity of the works is 160,000,000 gallons that it become obvious that the new Missouri River water plant will not be completed any too soon.

In this connection, he draws attention to the fact that the Missouri River plant there will be in-stalled a carbonating plant to recarbonize the water, which will reduce the deposits of carbonates, not only in mains, but in water facilities in the home, such as water heating devices. It also is promised that the already-good quality of St. Louis water is likely to be further improved by the completion of covers for the settling basins tracts for which have been let. The cost of operation of the waterworks increased $94.849 during the year. Day explains that much of this expenditure was for equip-ment whose cost should be spread over a period of years rather than charged against any one year. Re-ceipts increased $129,000, however, offsetting the increased operating cost. The year ended with an unexpended balance in the treasury of $2,391,640.

During the year some 292,-074 of solids were removed rom the Mississippi River water in the process of its purification and iltration. The total pumpage was In excess of 43,000,000,000 gallons. It is shown that the waterworks, as they stand today, including the partly finished Missouri River plant, represent an investment by the public of $40,649,000, with outstanding bonds of $11,427,000, Recelpts from the public for the year were $3,534,433, compared with operating and maintenance costs of $2,136,000.

46 SMOKE ABATEMENTS

DURING MONTH REPORTED mmissioner Gordon Lists Cases for October; Total for Two

Years Is 1531. Forty-six cases of excessive smoke were abated by city smoke inspectors during October, Commissioner Gordon reported today, bringing the total in two years' activity of this department to 1531 cases. Last month's instances were at 17 industrial plants, 14 apartments, 10 bakeries and five schools. The abatement was effected in the following manner: Thirteen places changed to oil for fuel, 12 changed to coke, one changed to gas, seven adopted different grades of coal, five installed mechanical stokers, five installed smoke consumers and three raised their chimneys.

During October, 268 janitors and 459 householders attended the fur-Smoke Abatement League, at Hodiamont avenue and Olive Street road, and certificates of completion of the course were given 232 janitors. The large attendance of jan-itors is attributed to the co-operation of the Real Estate Exchange and of the University City Fire Department in sending men who operate apartment heaters to the school. It is expected that attendance will grow as the weather becomes colder.

WOMEN RESCUE MAN IN SKIFF

BEACH HAVEN, N. J., Nov. 4. -The heroism of three young women of this place was disclosed yesterday by Capt. Amos Crosta, whom they fescued after plunging into the breakers when his skiff foundered in a heavy sea.

"Capt. Steve," as he familiarly is known along the beach, was out yesterday, preparing for a run of cod fish when a huge comber struck his skiff at the inlet and battered the frail craft almost to pieces. Nearly exhausted from his efforts to keep the skiff sighted in the high seas, he was forced to leap overboard and attempt to swim ashore. His plight was seen by the women—Miss Freda Cranmr, Mrs. Whitney Marshall and Miss Beatrice Journan, who were strolling near the beach. All three plunged into the breakers and dragged the old man to safety.

FORMER IRON DEALER BROKE

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in Federal Court yesterday by Selig Schwartz of 715 Limit avenue, a former iron deal-er, who lists liabilities of $85.592. all unsecured, and assets of $10,-

The largest individual creditors are the First National Bank of Tulsa, Ok., which holds Schwartz' note for $18,590, and the Boatmen's Bank, holder of a $7585 note. Schwartz now employed as a salesman, was worth $250,000 a few years ago before he suffered numerous business reverses, ac-cording to his attorney.

MISSOURI LEGISLATORS SLUMPED.

The Missouri State Legislature at its recent session missed an opportunity to put this State in the leadership of the work of improving the administration of criminal law. It had before it, according to Richard Washburn Child, chairman of the National Crime Commission, the best program of reform formulated by any commission.

Mr. Child in his report credits the Missouri Assocarefully studied of any legislation suggested in this crime problem than any others compiled.

Mr. Child points out that the recommendations of the Missouri association have been embodied in the was tarking about inheritance, nuisance and corporalaws of many other states, but adds that the Missousuggestions made by the association, and refused to bring the majority of them up for discussion.

This is a well deserved compliment for the Missouri Association for Criminal Justice, and a well-deserved rebuke of our State Legislature.

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

THE RELIGIOUS QUESTION IN

POLITICS. From the Hartford Courant.

W E like what Rev. Morris E. Alling, pastor of the church at Storrs, Conn., said in his sermon Sunday, and we like the way he said it. His subject was "The Catholic Church on American Soil," a subject on which no doubt he felt constrained to preach because of the bigotry and intolerance that have been let loose ever since a distinguished communicant of that church was prominently mentioned for the presidency

With Rev. Mr. Alling evinced no degree of interest, but he was concerned that the qualifications of any man for public office should be judged by his religious belief. He recalled the attack on Mr. Taft when a candidate for the presidency because he was a Unitarian, as if his acceptance of that doctrine in some way unfitted him to serve the nation as its chief executive. Those who followed that campaign will remember that this anti-Unitarian movement assumed such proportions that President Roosevelt found it necessary to squeich it by one of his characteristically vigorous statements.

The opposition to Gov. Smith on religious grounds is more deeply rooted, but in point of reason, logic and truth it has no more basis for existence than the criticism and innuendoes that were directed against Mr. Taft. "Outside the realms of political jugglery and entanglement, in which every presidential possibility finds himself in-volved, the question has no point," says Rev. Mr. Alling. And, indeed, it has not.

In this country of ours, composed as it is of many races and many religions, we must somehow find a way to live in peace and harmony. The good Catholic, the good Protestant, the good Jew are all equally entitled to have their religious beliefs respected. They may be far apart in their forms of worship without being at variance with respect to their Americanism and love

A SLAM FOR THE INTOLERANTS. From the Philadelphia Public Ledger. HE Chancery Court in London has de-

creed that a group of people in Torwyn. Wales, is without justification in interfering with the playing of golf on Sunday by the members of the Aberdovey Golf Club. The crusaders at a mass meeting had declared that golf violated the most sacred convictions of the majority of the inhabitants of the town. The meeting was followed by a parade over the links, interfering with play. And the play was further interfered with by a goat which somebody had tethered on the seventeenth green. The Court, in announcing its decision, expressed an opinion which must have tartled some of the crusaders. It suggested that the obstructors could exercise their religion without inter-fering with other people. Great idea, isn't it? Isn't it a wonder somebody didn't think

THE CASE OF ARNOLD CHARD. From the New York Evening World.

REPORT FROM THE SLAUGHTER HOUSE.

E VERY now and then we get a striking illustration of the workings of the immigration law designed to meet the menace of the "foreign devils." We have a new one in Nebraska where a reputable, prosperous farmer and a good citizen has been driven to his death by suicide through an experience with this law. Consider the case of Arnold Chard: He was four years old when he came to America with his parents. He grew up under American institutions. The thought that he was not a citizen when he attained his majority-becaus of the failure of his father to become naturalized-never occurred to

This man married, settled on the land and became a useful farmer, reared a family, prospered, discharged the duties of citizenship, and when the war came he sent his boys to fight for the United States. He was an ideal American citizen.

His wife, who came here from France when 6, assumed that she was a citizen by virtue of the citizenship of her husband. Having prospered and earned a vacation, the couple spent four months in Europe on The more they saw of Europe the etter they thought of the United Statesthus differing from our intelligentsia, or a

WiEN civil service reform was first brought into the political channel during President Grant's administration, where it appears to have been sorely needed. Senator Roscoe Conkling, of New York, was bitter in his opposition to it.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 4 .- The gray-haired wife of Earle Nelson, alleged "dark strangler," took the stand yesterday for her husband, on trial for murder. Called to the stand as "Mary Fuller," she testifled she married the defendant in San Francisco eight years ago. She knew him then as Evan Fuller.

Nelson's lawyer had submitted in evidence affidavits purporting to how that Nelson had been cor mitted to an insane asylum in California. The move was interpreted as preceding an insanity plea for the defendant. Nelson's wife asserted her life acted queerly.

The prosecution objected to admission of a document she pro-duced, showing that Nelson was mmitted to the California State Hospital for the Insane June 13, 1921. She admitted under crossexamination that her husband had een arrested, charged with an assault on a girl, and that he had been placed in a strait-jacket before removal to the hospital for Several witnesses for the crown testified they had talked with Nelson in Winnipeg just before he was arrested for the murder of Mrs. Patterson and Lola Cowan, 14year-old school girl.

TAYLORVILLE, III., Nov. 4.-An unidentified well dressed young man was found dead yesterday along the tracks of the Wabash from here. He is believed to have either fallen or jumped from the Wabash flyer running between Chicago and St. Louis.

Postmaster O'Neil of Clarksdale said he saw a man hanging onto a coach of the flyer as it went through town and shortly after the body was found. The only means of identification found in the clothing was a money order receipt, bearing the name of Clarence Hinton. The money order had been sent from St. Louis to Blufor Higgenbotham of Ecorse Mich., a suburb of Detroit.

FOR SPIRIT BRIDE

Man, 71, Says- He Bought Trousseau on Medium's Assurance.

By the Associated Press. WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 4 .- Failure of "Sarah," his spirit bride, to materialize after he purchased flowers for her and furnished a trousseau, was protested by John Seybold, 71-year-old farmer, when he appeared in District Court here seeking recovery of $7500 from a

Seybold charged that Mrs. Nellie Moore defrauded him out of that sum at a series of seances. He testified she was assisted by severa

He told the court how he married "Sarah" at a ceremony at which "she failed to take earthly shape." He said he often could vaguely discern his bride in the darkness of the seance room and on this assurance that she would materialize, he bought her roses. Then he purchased materials for wedding dresses which Mrs. Moore was to make.

"Sarah" then demanded $500 for wayward girls, the farmer testified. Assured that she would come to him for the money, he said he drew it from the bank and when illuminated hands were extended toward him at a seance, he placed the cash in them.
Seybold described the spirits as "very noisy" at times. This he thought was perhaps due to the presence of several Indians from the happy hunting grounds. Asked how he knew they were Indian spirits, he said, "They called

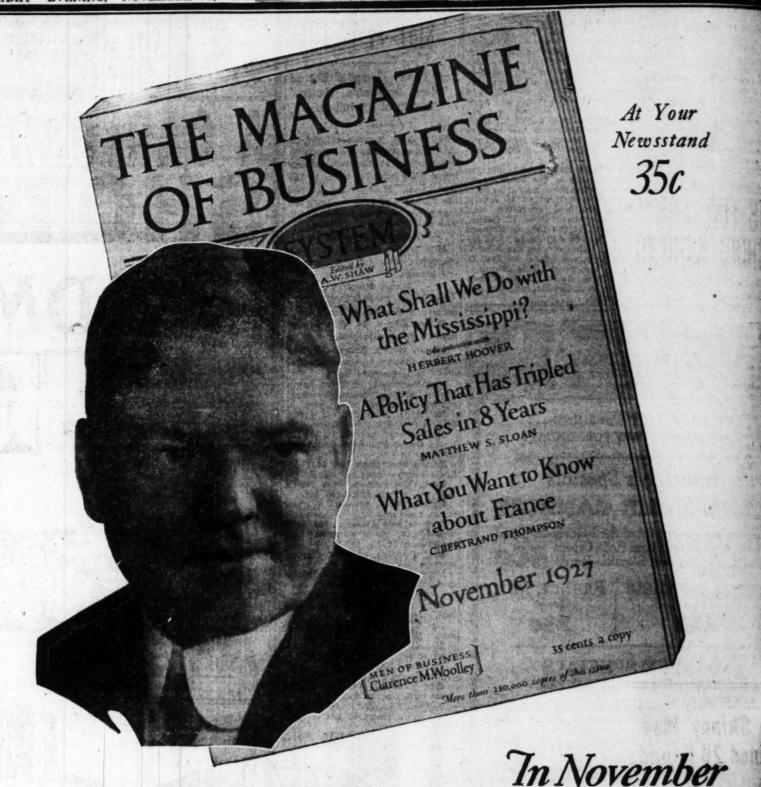

He also claimed to have sold land to meet "Sarah's" demands. Judge J. E. Alexander is hearing the case without a jury,

HERBERT HOOVER answers "What Shall We Do With The Mississippi?"

The Secretary of Commerce speaking on this subject in St. Louis would tax the capacity of the largest available hall. Seated across from him in his office you would be intent on his every uttered word.

And here, in THE MAGAZINE OF BUSINESS for November, Secretary Hoover talks to you about the Mississippi - about a catastrophe out of which may possibly emerge a great inland waterways system that can serve both industry and agriculture and improve America's economic balance.

An intimate discussion this, with Secretary Hoover, cabinet member - and Herbert Hoover, humanitarian. Too, it is the discussion of a problem national in its scope, one that can be international in the influence of its solution, and one demanding your attention because of its possible effect on your own business.

"The New Man of Business"

"The potential control of the future of our machine civilization is in the hands of 1,000 business men," says Dr. Glenn Frank, President, University of Wisconsin. Who are the thousand? What type of thinking and what kind of leadership will be required of them? Can today's business leaders qualify? Dr. Frank, in the final article of his series on the question "Where Is This Machine Age Taking Us?", pictures The New Man of Business on whose shoulders he places responsibility for the future of our civilization.

"What You Want to Know About France"

What is our heaviest international debtor thinking? What is going to happen to the franc? When are they going to pay us? The planning of our future exports to French markets must hinge largely on the answers to these questions. C. Bertrand Thompson, an American heading a business which takes him to every corner of France, is exceptionally well qualified to write this answer for American business men.

New! BEADS of Soap replace chips and flakes

Colgate & Co. announce a startling scientific discovery that revolutionizes washing. This patented* product is different in form, in action and in results from any other soap you have ever seen.

SUPER Suds is made, by a new, patented* method, in the form of beads—tiny, porous, quick-sudsing.

The instant these marvelous little beads hit running water, they dissolve like magic, because their walls are incredibly thin (four times as thin as soap flakes). In a flash you get rich, lively, hard-working suds which instantly seep through your wash. The perfect blend of ingredients in Super Suds makes it the most efficient soap for all family washing-including the finest fabrics.

Try this quick-sudsing soap for dishwashing also. Learn the joy of using a soap that gets dishes sparkling clean with complete safety to your hands. Its scientific blend and complete solubility remove any possibility of harm to delicate skin.

Super Suds is inexpensive. It is the biggest box of soap on the market for the price-10c.

Old Dutch safeguards your family with and protects porcelain and enamel

In the bathroom and throughout the house Old Dutch Cleanser leaves the stamp of Healthful Cleanliness wherever it is used.

There is nothing else like Old Dutch for efficiency, quality and economy. These distinctive characteristics are due to the fact that its fine particles are flaky and flat-shaped. They erase all visible dirt, and, by a process similar to "adsorption," remove the dangerous impurities as well-assuring spick and span Healthful Cleanliness.

There is no harsh grit in Old Dutch. That's why it doesn't scratch. This is an important protection to the beauty and life of porcelain and enamel.

Avoid cleaners containing scratchy grit. Grit makes scratches that mar the beauty of surfaces and collect impurities which are often dangerous. A scratched surface is more difficult to keep clean.

This drawing of a highly magnified particle of Old Dutch shows how it works. These particles make a clean sweep without scratching. Like thousands of tiny erasers they remove

Dundee Still Faces Suspension for His Failure to Appear

Welterweight King Declined to Go Through With His Scheduled Championship Bout With Hudkins at Los Angeles, Because Guarantee Was Not in Sight.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 4 .- Warrants for the arrest of Joe Dundee, world's welterweight boxing champion: Max Waxman, his manager, and Dick Donald, promoter, on charges of false advertising, were ordered issued by City Prosecutor E. J. Lickley today as an aftermath of the champion's failure to defend his title here last night against Ace Hudkins in a championship battle.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4 .- Ace Hudkins' claim to the world's welterweight championship was tabled by the California Athletic Commission today. Hudkins demanded the crown when Joe Dundee, champion, declined to enter the ring last night because Promoter Dick Donald had not made good his reported guarantee of $60,000 to the titleholder.

The result of this festival will depend largely on whether or not the light Notre Dame line can withstand Minne-sota's stalwart forwards sufficiently to prevent Joesting from pushing them off the field. I believe both teams will do some scoring. Min-nesots not only has Joesting to plunge the line, but Almquist and Barnhart to circle the ends, a strong passing attack, and with Pharmer back in the game, a high class kicking game. Notre Dame has shown strength in every branch of attack. It is my personal opinion that the game will be decided between the two lines. Minnesota has the advantage in power and has the advantage in power and weight, whereas the Notre Dame team has a shade in experience.

Children's Bedtime Story By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Mrs. Peter and Little Pete

The young, you'll find, will have their way: 'Twas always so and is today. -Mrs. Peter Rabbit.

CUCH a happy reunion as there was in the old bramble-tangle up in the Old Pasture. Mrs. Peter Rabbit had, you know, met a stranger, and the stranger proved to be one of her own children, who when he was little had been called Little Pete. Now he was as big as his father, Peter Rabbit, and quite as fine-looking as Peter ever had been. Little Mrs. Peter's heart was filled with pride as she looked at him. It had been a long long time since he left the dear Old Briarpatch to go out into the World, and his mother had heard nothing from him in all this time. But that is nothing against him, for this is the way of rabbits

"Is your home up here in the Old Pasture?" inquired Mrs. Peter. "It hasn't been, but it is going to be from now on," replied Little Pete. "I have just come up from the Green Forest."

"Then you haven't been around in the Old Pasture a great deal," said little Mrs. Peter. "I take it you haven't met your grandfather, Old Jed Thumper, who thinks that the Old Pasture belongs to him." "No." replied Little Pete. t he thinks that, he has old-fashioned ideas. If the Old Pasture suits me as well as I think it will. and suits Mrs. Pete, we shall stay here, whether Old Jed Thumper

Then Moses stood in the gate of the camp, and said, Who is on the Lord's side? Let him come unto me. And all the sons of Levi gathered themselves together unto him. And he said unto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Put every man his sword by his side, and go in and out from gate to gate throughout the camp, and slay every man his brother, and every man his companion, and every man his neighbor. And the children of Levi did according to the word of Moses: and there fell of the people that day about there thousand men. For Moses had said, Consecrate yourselves to day to the Lord, even every man upon his son, and upon his brother; that he may bestow upon you a blessing this day.

Look oatmeal this way onceand you'll never go back

OATMEAL—as standard as breakfast itself! Who would ever have thought that oat-meal could be lifted out of the eat-it-because-it's-good-for-you class? Yet that is exactly what happens when you add a little Price's Vanilla when you cook it.

Caroline B. King, the wellknown cooking authority, whom we asked to test out the idea, says, "You have opened up an entirely new field in sulinary possibilities." Ordinary oatmeal tastes flat and insipid in comparison. This is her recipe: To one cup of oatmeal add one teaspoonful of Price's Vanilla and cook as usual. Delicious? You never tasted oatmeal, so delightfully good. Your grocer sells Price's Vanilla — the original, true, tropic flavor of rare excellence, strength and purity. Write for Caroline B. King's booklet, "35 Appetite Helps for Mother."
